The Election Next Tuesday. But a few days remain of the campaign in this State, which has been conducted with great energy by the two parties before the people. In nty the campaign has been a quiet one, but the voters are awake to the issues of the day, notwithstanding the absence of Republican torch light processions and brass band logic. The question is not one simply of Democratic or Republican ascendancy, for there is succeeded in his effort to make a bargain that sould influence a single voter in his choice of parties or candition of the republican leaders of that State to bad in ten years. The Democratic party has placed itself on a platform squarely at issue with that of the opposition party, and the difference is exactly that between legislation for the wealthy few, and just enactments for all. No greater exemplification of this truth was ever made than by the vicious measure incorporated into a law under the title of the "McKinley Bill." The Republican party has placed itself on record by this so called "protective measure," as a mere tool in the hands of wealthy capitalists who are piling up their millions each year at the expense of the tolling masses, and use the g. o. p. to perpetu ate them in the dangerous and oppressive power conferred upon them by Republicans alone. A Democratic victory means a triumph for tariff reform in the interests of the labor ing people, on whom the burders of the un-just McKinley statute fall. Let every Democrat go to the polls and vote his full party ticket, for there never was a greater demand or more urgent need for the friends of good government to unite against Republican mis-rule that threatens absolute slavery to the poorer
